- Require positive behavioural support.

The services we offer:

- Highly personalised and progression focused learning programmes
- On-going support with vocational and independent living life skills
- Wellbeing, health and care plans
- Courses linked to external accreditation, leading to nationally recognised qualifications
- Learning through meaningful, realistic and practical activities
- Programmes and strategies designed to assist learners to cope and become more confident in social situations
- Specialist sensory and communication assessment and support
- An extensive programme of social, leisure and sporting activities within the local community

Ofsted report February 2017 Good Grade 2 – Key Findings

“Staff provide excellent behavioural support that enables learners to manage their own conduct successfully and cope well in a range of social situations.”

“Learners improve their ability to communicate significantly, so they are able to participate more fully in lessons and increasingly make decisions for themselves.”

“Teachers and specialist support staff are very skilled in working with learners who have highly complex learning difficulties and/or disabilities. As a result, learners make good progress from their starting points.”

“A good range of partnership working continues to bring about many benefits for learners in the form of increased work-related learning and community based activities.”

Curriculum pathways

Learners at the college will follow a personalised study programme via one of the curriculum pathways below:

Learning for life

This pathway is a person-centred learning programme for young people with profound and multiple learning disabilities (PMLD). The programme aims to promote independence and prepares learners for adulthood.

Foundation learning

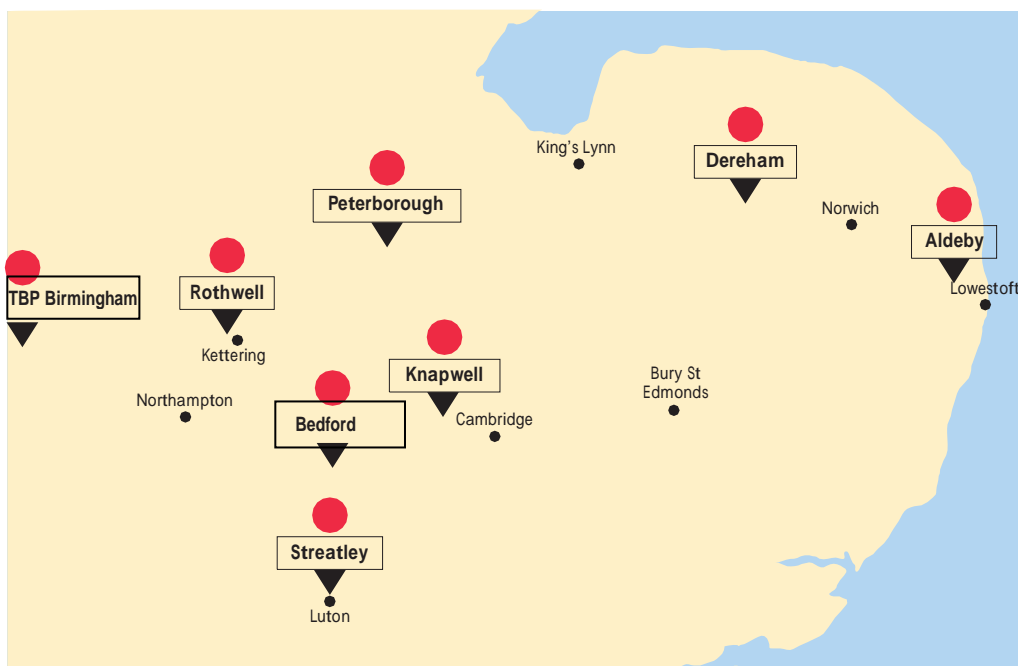

Learners follow a study programme consisting of courses linked to their career work and future study aspirations. Learners follow entry 1, 2 and 3 courses preparing and progressing them towards Level 1 study.

Employability

Learners following this pathway aspire to achieve employment or acquire significant work experience that prepares them well for their intended vocation.

Where are we based?
